Overview

Grants Pass is located in the “Sun Belt” of Southern Oregon astride the banks of the Rogue River, one of America’s premier white-water rivers. Nestled among a series of mountains giving the valley a scenic backdrop, Grants Pass is situated in Southwestern Oregon on the Interstate 5. With a current estimated population of 37,285, it is the county seat of Josephine County and serves as the major commercial center for the county population of more than 86,395.

Grants Pass and its surrounding valleys have a colorful past forged by Native Americans, trappers, loggers, gold panners, celebrities, and writers who were attracted to the river and who contributed to its legends. The first inhabitants of the region were the Takilma and Shasta tribes, frequently referred to by Hudson Bay trappers as "The Rogues" because of their willingness to fight for their rights. Josephine County was named for Josephine Rollins Ort, who came to the Illinois Valley with her father in 1851 and was credited with the first discovery of gold in Southern Oregon. The promise of gold caused Grants Pass, named to honor General Ulysses S. Grant's success at Vicksburg, to grow quickly. Farming began in order to meet the miners’ needs. Besides gold, timber was a major product of the county. From cigars and bricks, to pine needles, industry in Grants Pass started to boom. Well established by the 1900’s, the commercial salmon fleets added one more reason to draw people to the area. Recreational salmon fishing still draws people to the community.

The community is very volunteer oriented. Public and private enterprise working in unison with citizens completed a ten-year project of building a 50-acre community park “for all ages”. Reinhart Volunteer Park boasts baseball diamonds, soccer fields, horseshoes pits, basketball and tennis courts, passive trails, viewing ponds, playgrounds, and picnic and shelter areas created through thousands of volunteer hours and donated services. This volunteer spirit continued with the 8.37-acre Morrison Centennial Park. This park, dedicated in February 2005, was created by volunteers on donated land. Volunteers continue to work on both new and older projects such as Redwood Park and on adding adjacent property to Reinhart Volunteer Park. These projects, along with many others too numerous to list exemplify the pride of the local citizens.

Rogue Community College “Redwood Campus” is a two-year accredited public community college and provides excellent educational opportunities to all in the community. It boasts a population of more than 5,000 full and part-time students. The college caters not only to transfer programs but also offers technical and vocational programs, adult basic education, and recreational learning. Southern Oregon University, one of nine state university campuses, is located just 40 miles south of Grants Pass in Ashland. School District #7, serving students within the city limits, provides education to 5,598 students at ten school sites made up of six elementary schools, two middle schools, one high school, and one alternative school. There are also over 10 private and parochial schools in Josephine County.

The Rogue River provides many recreational opportunities such as: jet-boat trips, rafting, kayaking, fishing, water skiing, swimming, hiking, and gold panning. Nearby mountains provide high-mountain recreation, including snow skiing at Mt. Ashland. Other scenic attractions include Crater Lake National Park, Oregon Caves National Monument, and the Redwoods that stretch from San Francisco to Southern Oregon. Cultural activities include the Oregon Shakespeare Festival in Ashland and the historic town of Jacksonville.

Economy

A healthy community requires blending business and lifestyle through thoughtful economic development. The economics have diversified to include technology, medical care, tourism, retirement services, manufacturing, retail trade and other service sectors; the wood products industry still maintains a small presence in the county. A state economist has determined Josephine County to rank highest among non-metro Oregon counties in terms of economic diversification.

The City of Grants Pass is well known for its vibrant historical downtown corridor and surrounding areas. There is an entrepreneur spirit with fresh ideas and local made products. New restaurants and a new hotel recently opened on the north end of town. The number of new residential units for 2018 total 140 in addition to 90 additions and remodels. New commercial permits issued total 23 in addition to 88 remodels. Lodging tax revenue is starting to level off, for 2018 it was approximately $1.5 mil., compared to last year's $1.5 mil.

Josephine County (seasonally adjusted) unemployment rate for December 2018 was 5.9% and the State of Oregon was 4.3%.

Josephine County's payroll employment gained 690 jobs, an increase of 2.6 percent. Industries adding notable new jobs included private education and health services (+470); manufacturing (+310); and transportation, warehousing, and utilities (+40). Small gains were also estimated in professional and business services (+30); construction (+20); and information (+20).

The City of Grants Pass, incorporated in 1887, is a home rule charter city. This charter is the basic law under which the City operates. Amendments to the charter can only be made by a vote of the people and can be placed on the ballot by the Council or by the voters through an initiative process.

Ordinances enacted by the City Council also govern the city. The Council can change an ordinance at any time or the voters of Grants Pass can initiate an ordinance change. City ordinances become effective 30 days after they are passed by the Council and approved by the Mayor. Emergency measures needed for the health, peace and safety of the city are effective immediately following a favorable vote by two thirds of the Council.

The Mayor is the formal representative of the City of Grants Pass and is elected to a four-year term by the voters at large on a non-partisan ballot. The Mayor presides over Council meetings and does not vote, except in the case of a tie. The Mayor can veto any Council decision, but a two-thirds vote of the Council can override the veto.

The City Council is composed of eight councilors elected to four-year terms on a non-partisan ballot. One councilor is elected from each of the eight wards in the city, with one-half of the Council elected every two years. New wards may be created or the boundaries of wards may be changed by Council action. The Council's authority extends over all the City's powers and sets the policies by which the City serves its citizens. The Council takes official action at regular Council meetings, which are open to the public. The Mayor may call a special meeting, provided that the public is given 24-hour notice.

Since Grants Pass operates under the council-manager form of government, the Council is responsible for selecting a City Manager. The City Manager is responsible for the business, financial, and property transactions of the City, as well as preparation of the annual budget, appointment and supervision of personnel, enforcement of City ordinances, and the organization and general management of City departments. As chief administrator, the City Manager has no vote in the Council, but may take part in discussions of matters coming before the legislative body.

The citizens of Grants Pass are the most important part of the City organization. Councilors are elected by the citizens to represent their interests on the Council, and City services are directed to meet their needs. Public hearings are routinely held so that citizens can contribute to the planning and budgeting process of the City.

Another way for citizens to have input in how the City is governed is through the City's advisory groups. The City of Grants Pass uses two types of advisory groups. The first is the standing committee. The Mayor and City Council appoint citizens to serve on six standing committees:

- Budget Committee
- PAVE Committee
- Urban Area Planning Commission
- Grants Pass Parks Advisory Board
- Historic Buildings and Sites Commission
- Bikeways & Walkways Committee
- Committee on Public Art
- Industrial Development Loan Review Committee
- Tourism Advisory Committee
- Urban Tree Advisory Committee
- Collaborative Economic Development Committee
- Housing Advisory Committee
- Solid Waste Agency

These committees make recommendations to the City Council on policy issues and advise City staff on certain operational matters.

The Organization Chart for the City of Grants Pass displays the full time equivalencies and the methods of reporting for the City organization. Your local government is a broad mix of services. We operate three independent utilities: Solid Waste, Water, and Wastewater. The governmental side of our organization is dominated by Public Safety, delivering a range of law enforcement, fire, and preventive services. The management of growth and development is vested in our Community Development Department. Street maintenance and Storm Water systems are provided by Public Works. Park maintenance, together with the downtown, tourism, and economic development programs, is administered by Parks and Community Services.

The organization is divided into five major areas; Public Safety, Administrative Services, Community Development, Parks and Community Services, and Public Works. The directors for these major responsibilities, along with the City Attorney, Finance Director, Human Resources Director, and the City Manager, constitute the Executive Management team for the City. The City Manager and this team meet routinely to coordinate the delivery of services and analyze issues for the City Council's decision making.

The following organizational chart shows each department and the permanent personnel in each division. We extensively use volunteers, contractors, and on-call/seasonal personnel that are not shown in the organization chart. A great example is Public Safety where dozens of full-time job equivalents are created in the many services provided by the department through firefighting interns, on-call personnel for office and dispatching services, and countless hours of volunteer support for the Public Safety Academy and Auxiliary Services.

The City of Grants Pass is a dynamic organization. We are constantly working to develop better ways to coordinate services and assure our residents the best possible services delivered in a way that makes sense and meets the needs of our citizens.
